

My recovery is going GREAT!

I'm working my program, attending my meetings and doing the 12 steps. I'm in touch with my feelings, reclaiming my personal power and healing my inner child. I meditate, play my "self talk" tapes and I'm becoming one with the universe....

Now if I could just remember what it is I'm recovering from.....

Lany

Thanks for a Great Dinner + Eve!

In Your Face Cards is a Misfortune 500 company dedicated to life, puberty and the pursuit of non-violent humor. We are also a pollution-free company that uses only recycled ideas, bio-degradable employees and non-toxic stock holders. Its Bored of Directors consists of primarily endangered species unless your friends start buying these cards, too.

And besides that, we're patriotic. None of us drive cars that were made in Japan or Germany. They were made right here in the USA, ...and repaired right here in the USA...several times. None of our jokes come from Japan either. And if Japan would relax their safety standards for greeting cards we could sell tons...dozens of cards over there. So write your Congressman.
